

France, but Frenchs will be Frenchs; and I don't have enough pages to explain you their Byzantine quarrels, glad as I am to be so far away!

In another land, far away, Africa, Fr. Ndong is announcing that another priest is joining in Uganda, where he already had a mission. You certainly heard of the two Nigerian priests that joined two years ago, but perhaps you don't know they have also three seminarians while Uganda has one and Fr. Ndong another in Gabon.

So, amidst all our tears, for the current loss of so many souls, it seems the heavens are moving at last.

Marian Corps of St. Pius X (MCSPX)

Who are we?

A group of Catholic priests formed in May ~ June 2012 under the patronage of the Blessed Virgin Mary to fight modernism and immorality within the Catholic Church. We are affiliated to the Catholic Resistance Movement.

What do we do?

We warn the Catholics about the false teachings and the scandals from so many priests and bishops. We promote fidelity of the Catholic Tradition to the teaching of the Faith, to the laws of the Church and to Liturgy. We celebrate the Mass in Latin according to the Traditional Rite. We train young men to be priests at the Hearts of Jesus and Mary Seminary (add.: Dam-an, Pamutan, Cebu City, Philippines) offering them the traditional formation to priesthood. We work in collaboration with other priests of the Catholic Resistance worldwide and in the Philippines with some Carmelites, faithful to Tradition.

FIGHT THE WAR OF FAITH, AS TO TAKE HOLD OF ETERNAL LIFE

Covee-Doo, Where Are You?

We've been scooby-dooed into the collapse of the Covid narrative, mainly because of the onset of WWII... broken economies can't make bullets and a cowed population only makes cowards, not a very good war material if you ask me, to win wars.

Of course the belief in the Maskerade endures in many urban places, and people, especially our Judeomasonic, Big Pharma, Philanthropic friends would be ready to start another cycle, but as Biden has admitted, "The preparation for the next pandemic has to be postponed until the Ukraine war is won". Viruses don't like wars.

As a result, we are left off the hook temporarily, and the transportation idiosyncrasies have diminished enough for the priests to travel, and the seminary to accept candidates again (1 Indian, 1 Kiwi, 1 Aussie, 3 Nigerians, 0 Filipino  all goes well). Fr. Elias will be ordained on Feb. 11th.

• Post-vaccinal Disaster Assessment

In view of further innocent lives to be destroyed in any further attempt, it helps to mention what's the known tally of large scale inoculations inflicted on populations. Here is an imperfect list.

- Rapid Effects {
  - Death of about 10% of the elderly population
  - Miscarriages of many children; no exact figures
  - Permanent sterility (that were also found to follow some other vaccines)
  - Cerebral vascular accidents, often fatal
  - Other grave accidents like myocarditis, paralysis, internal bleedings, clottings

- Permanent Effects {
  - Degrading of immunity. It is AIDS in another name. Patients who shouldn't go, go to hospital, or need treatment for ordinary flu diseases because they can't cope with ordinary flu.
  - Permanent fatigue and sleeping disorders
  - Excess deaths in younger sections of the population: there is a definite uptick noticed by many doctors.

I leave some space above because I'm sure there is more in the Pfizer Surprise Package; and I'm no doctor myself to know the extent of the consequences that have befallen the injected sheep. What I know for sure is that Putin is a Nobel Price of medicine... he alone has ended the pandemic and stolen the whole Covid narrative, destroyed the mainly political agenda of Kevid.

Let us first and foremost be thankful to an infinite Kind Providence, Who has postponed digital communism to the time of Antichrist, where it belongs; for in our time people are not ready. If the Philanthropists reigning over us had had their way, their plan to gradually exterminate and tag their human slaves

(Yet again, allow me to repeat that the jurisdiction of a public heretic is illicit ipso facto / the Church, our Mother, doesn't want Her children to approach opponents of the Catholic Faith, both for Sacraments and acts of jurisdiction. If the Church grants jurisdiction to heretics, it will only be in case of unwillful ignorance and necessity; not in our case, because we know what Francis is doing, and Archbishop Lefebvre & Bishop Castro de Mayer have provided us a Sacramental lifeline back in June 1988.)

SSPX bishops roam around a lot in Asia still... as I write these lines Bishop Fellay is in Sabah, Malaysia, while yours truly is in Kuala Lumpur.

- There we are then, if there is another round of Covid narrative, we are more ready. Nevertheless, the Western Judeomasonic Elites are escalating further their dance with Russia (France is sending light tanks now; the US, one Patriot Battery... after Poroshenko & Merkel, it is now François Hollande, a former President, who says the West lied in signing the Minsk agreement in order to arm Ukraine against Russia). We are approaching 200,000 dead and the kinetic scale of this war is the biggest since WWII. Nobody knows how this conflict will deescalate, Putin is a new Hitler for one side; he is a prize of medicine for me.

- Fr. Elias, in the meantime of all this, will be ordained on Feb 11th; but before that, we will resume our yearly priest meetings, with plenty of things to discuss. The guest of honor will be Fr. Picot, who is now a member of the SAJM. Later, another SAJM priest, Fr. Paul Rosseau will visit us, and even conduct Holy Week in Cebu, while Fr. Elias will cover Malaysia or vice versa.

You get the idea: we are collaborating. There are some sparks in

The same goes for the Novus Ordo now. It is so riddled with scandals; and the scandals and destruction under Francis is so vast that the act of forbidding the Novus Ordo religion, the New Mass, the New This & That will be easier to enforce by a Papacy having returned to Tradition.

“Ipsius sunt tempora” of the Easter Vigil can be translated by “the timing is God’s”.

• Another great news

Worried about the Covidocommunicistic restrictions on movements, Bishop Williamson took the countermeasure to consecrate before witnesses Fr. Ballini. Way to go! I say that at the moment I’ve just been denied boarding by the NZ immigration... the enemy makes his moves, we make ours. I don’t see how they will prevent our seminarians to re-enter their own country after six years in Cebu; just I don’t see how they will destroy the line, the legacy of Archbishop Lefebvre.

Objection: too many bishops?

→ Not really; Bishop Williamson is aging, slowing down. Bishop Faure, who is still active and even willing to come to Asia, is of the same age as Bishop Williamson. In this side of the world the last episcopal visit took place a bit less than five years ago; something of a thousand Confirmations await in 50 groups and venues.

As to the ratio of bishops for priests, it is 1 archbishop + 5 bps. / 88 priests to 700 [±≈200 independent] priests / 2.5 SSPX bishops. What do you think is worse??? A bit too many bishops, perhaps, or certainly too few of them, especially as one of them is a bit weak of health, and more worryingly, the SSPX says they will not consecrate without permission from Pope Francis!

Their consecrating a bishop without Rome’s approval would be the biggest blow the SSPX could deal to the Resistance, disproving in one single move, that we were wrong all along to say that the SSPX is under the canonical thumb of the New Rome... but that would mean that the new-fangled “ordinary” jurisdiction for Marriage, Penance and Ordination is no longer in use... which is our best desire for the SSPX.

would be well on its way. It will take a series of good Popes, Doctors & Confessors to beat the army of Christ into shape, before Mr. Lu(cifer) brings on his last act... a doozy of devil’s doozies.

So I won’t bother you further with the “Coup Vide” failed coup attempt, and as I told you in the last issue, Russia is winning, as it has what is called “escalation dominance” and holds an amazingly powerful military industry and all lines of energy and commodity supplies, the two vital ingredients in modern war. We shall see if General Surovikin offensive will demonstrate his talent and my guess is that Russia will not launch big arrow offensives before the Ukrainian army has been totally degraded: a solid diet of 60,000 shells a day and 100 cruise missiles a week shall do, I believe.

And facing Russia, our Western Judeomasonic governments are blinded by pride, and their compulsive lies... which make them lie to themselves, “that they’re gonna win this war,” just like they won in Lybia, Syria, Iraq, Afghanistan... Of course, if you lose against goat herders, you will bring down the Russian alliance. Yet again, lies, lies, lies... but not for long this time; because in this the Western propaganda machine is true; this is a war opposing the Liberal dying world, against an unknown New World tired of liberalism, wokeism, feminism, capitalism, imperialism... tired of all the destructive -isms that have proliferated since the French Revolution of 1789.

- China, still deep into communism may be the exception; yet one may never know, after the hefty dose of “Zero Covid” they have endured, the Chinese crowd yelled at last “Down with communism! Down with the Communist Party!” ... and the Party backed down. History, namely all dynastic transitions of China have proved; the Chinese are very patient and obedient, but when they are fed up, they are unstoppable so.

and groupusculous array of priests, vast amounts of souls remain captive in as many false religions, and ideologic contraptions as there are gates of hell.

Hell is filling up as never before and it is in the view of that that I propose two books, each dealing on one alternative, Eternal Hell and the other, Eternal Crown. The goal is to remedy the absence of serious books among our faithful, and a chance to give any soul to wake up and realise we only have one affair, which is to save our souls.

This is why we are about to witness massive economic destruction and loss of life, because God is kind, but essentially in view of what happens to us in eternity. When He sees that “all flesh had corrupted its way”, God makes big decisions and reclaim the lordship of history.

I don't like the concept of “creative destruction”, because God is a better gardener than that: He destroys the lower dead branches, to allow more sap to feed the upper healthy ones. He destroys dead trees, dead civilisations, to plant new Catholic ones, like He did, via our Lady, in Mexico.

He allows evil only to draw a greater good; “God is so powerful as to be able to draw good out of it”. WWI & WWII enabled a brief reprieve and a significant uptick of religious vocations for 20 years. This war that has just began, I trust will do the same, but also push back infernal powers for quite a while, unlike WWI & WWII that generated an unjust world order and a greater disorientation.

Usually, while God allows evil to bring about good, He chooses the lesser evil; but in view of what has been promised this time, a much greater good shall be seen. It shall be so big as to warrant the long wait it took to obtain it; just like the long captivity of the Hebrews in Babylon needed to be long, and their numbers had to fall to insignificant levels (in the words of Daniel) so as to kill, once and for all the evil of idolatry. Still in the neck as they were, the Hebrews never fell again into abandoning the Law of Moses.

- Like them we had our warning, we had our moment “if men do not repent” ... and like them we elected the hard way. The only difference is the size of it all. Not any more a tiny nation... not any more a portion of the human race as when Europe converted, as when South America converted.

- This brings the question of the timing. If so many are lost why is not God intervening to avoid the loss of so many souls? St. Thomas answers that if God intervenes too early, the patient may not take the medicine, because the evil does not seem to him so dire. That is why the Novus Ordo is allowed to rot further. Under John Paul II & Benedict XVI it had some levels of human respectability and JP II was a superstar. Now, in this cancer stage four, many former Wojtylians are coming to realise that something is wrong with the Novus Ordo. During the French Revolution, it helped that the regime fell into terror, genocide (in Lyon & Vendee) and internal massacre. Otherwise we would, like Lammenais, think that the ideals of the French Revolution fit the ideal of the Gospel; that the slogan “Liberté, Égalité, Fraternité” is a Christian slogan.
